AUSTRIA FORMALLY DECLARES WAR AGAINST SERBIA TODAY

Follows Rejection of Sir Edward Gray, British Foreign Minister, of Mediation Offer

TROOPS MASSED ON BORDER

Austria and Germany Refuse Offices of Powers on Issues Between Serbia and Austria

RUSSIAN TROOPS ON MOVE

First Act of Czar Will be Followed by Mobilization Order from Berlin—Many Rumors

(By United Press.)
Berlin, Germany, July 28.—Austria today formally declared war on Serbia.

Troops are being massed on the border. Reservists are pouring into Austria from Germany and all preparations are being made for an immediate invasion of the little kingdom. Austrian warships and transports are moving up and down the Danube and official report of the occupation of Belgrade is expected hourly.

The formal declaration followed the rejection of the proposal of Sir Edward Gray, British foreign minister, for mediation. Both Austria and Germany refused to consider mediation on issues between Austria and Serbia.

The two governments addressed notes to Gray in which they left open the way for further negotiations looking towards localizing the war. Austria refused to submit her demands on Serbia to the ambassadorial conference.

Russia has stated unofficially that an invasion of Serbia will not be countenanced and the chief efforts of the powers will not be to gain positive assurance of the Czar that the Russian government will keep hands off. Troops are on the move, however, and the first act of Russia will be followed by a general mobilization order from Berlin.

The Austrian government has taken over all the telephone and telegraph lines and word of war was received here by a simple sentence message.

Unconfirmed rumors are that Russian troops are now concentrating on the border but the Czar has informed Germany that general mobilization orders have not been issued. Fourteen Russian army troops are said to have been mobilized. Reports that the Czar left for Finland were unconfirmed today.

KAISER KEEPS SON AT TENNIS

(By United Press.)
Berlin, Germany, July 28.—Kaiser Wilhelm today ordered the crown prince, heir to the German throne, to stay at Zoppot, a seaside resort, and play tennis. The order is taken as indicating fear of the Kaiser that his warlike son may be carried away by the war spirit and commit some indiscretions in Berlin that would make Germany take part in the conflict.

Runs on the Berlin savings banks were renewed today. The German foreign office today told the United Press that the outlook for localizing the conflict appeared more hopeful.

FINE SUMMER RESORT DAY

It was One of the Kind Folders Tell About at This Season

Today was one of the kind of days the summer resort folders tell about. There was a fine breeze and the temperature bobbed around below ninety degrees all day. The mercury did get up to ninety once, but came down again and hovered around eighty-six. Rain fell last night at intervals, but the fall was not heavy enough to do any good. The weather man makes some deviation from the set prediction today when he says it will be slightly cooler tonight.

2 CHARGED WITH "BOOTLEGGING"

Willard Bennett and Charles Sweet are Arraigned Before Mayor Bebout and Plead not Guilty

TRIAL IS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Henry Graham Says They Sold Him a Quart of Whiskey for a Dollar Sunday and They Drank it

Willard Bennett and Charles Sweet were arraigned before Mayor Bebout last night on charges of "bootlegging" and both entered pleas of not guilty. Bennett will have a hearing Wednesday evening at seven-thirty o'clock and Sweet will be tried Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Bennett and Sweet are alleged to have sold a quart of whiskey to Henry Graham. At least Graham told Chief Rosenerane that he gave the two men a dollar and they gave him the quart. The transaction took place Sunday.

The three men drank the booze in a local barber shop and during the spree a mirror was broken. Bennett and Sweet tried to make Graham pay for the glass and when he refused an argument took place, and when the men left, Graham was "sore" at the other two.

This is the story told the police by Graham. He was very mad at the other two men for making him responsible for the glass, in fact he was so mad that he came to the police and filed the affidavit charging "bootlegging."

Sweet and Bennett tell a different story and say they bought the "booze" of Graham. With two different stories the cases against the men promise to be quite interesting. Graham came here several weeks ago with a carnival company that was stranded and has since been working in a local foundry.

Visitor at Home of John D. Stewart is Painfully Hurt

Miss Amelia Ashland, of Greenfield, Ohio, who is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Stewart, of near Milroy, sustained a painful cut on the arm Sunday when it came in contact with a steel comb case. Miss Ashland was in a friendly schuffle with Mr. Stewart and her arm was torn open by a sharp corner of the case. She was brought to this city where the wound was given attention. Several stitches were taken to close the wound.

L. B. Osborne Will Likely Fight Case in Higher Court

L. B. Osborne was found guilty of provoke and his son Fred was acquitted of the same charge yesterday afternoon in Squire Kratzer's court. The charges were filed by John Ward and grew out of a controversy over a lane between the Ward and Osborne farms. Mr. Osborne was fined one dollar and costs by the court. It is understood that an appeal to the circuit court will be taken by Mr. Osborne. The trouble occurred between the parties last week.

FARMER HIT BY I. & C. CAR TODAY

Willis Collins of Arlington Has Narrow Escape from Death When he Drives in Front of Dispatch

AT STOP EAST OF ARLINGTON

Right Leg is Broken and he Suffers from Shock—His Son, Henry Collins, Jumps in Time

Willis Collins, an Arlington farmer, narrowly escaped death shortly before ten o'clock this morning when the eastbound Indianapolis & Cincinnati dispatch struck the wagon in which he rode, killed both horses and severely injured him. The accident happened at stop 23, the first stop east of Arlington.

Henry Collins, age seventeen years, his son, was riding on the wagon, but he jumped in time to escape injury. For some unknown reason he ran up the road, persons on the car said, and did not stop when persons called to him. It was feared that he had been hurt.

Mr. Collins' left leg was broken above the knee and he suffered a severe shock, but this is thought to be the extent of his injuries. He was conscious when he was brought here on the dispatch, which struck him, about eleven o'clock. He complained of his back, but Dr. E. I. Wooden, to whose office he was taken, did not think he was internally injured.

Harry Bradon motorman on the car, said that he blew the whistle repeatedly when he saw the hay wagon approaching, but that the driver did not appear to hear it. When the motorman saw that a collision was inevitable, Henry Collins, the boy, grabbed his father's arm and pointed in the direction of the car. Then he jumped. The warning had evidently come too late for the elder man to leap.

The wagon was damaged and the horses were killed instantly. Persons on the car say that they do not see how Mr. Collins escaped death. Many saw him drive directly in the path of the car.

Passengers on the car when it arrived here say that Motorman Bradon gave the best exhibition of nerve they ever saw. He stuck to his post even though he had ample time to rush back into the car when he saw that nothing could stop the car from striking the wagon. He was pointed out that he faced death when he stayed at the wheel because there was danger of the car being derailed or of flying pieces striking him. As it was, he was cut slightly on the face by flying glass.

Mr. Collins was removed to his home in Arlington this afternoon. Irwin Meal was the conductor on the car.

FALLS THROUGH THE DOOR GLASS

Mrs. Cecil Drennen, 332 West Third Street, Almost Bleeds to Death From Wound in Arm.

UP IN SEARCH OF BURGLARS

"Prowler" Proves to be Six-Year-Old Daughter Pauline, Who is Walking in Her Sleep.

Because her little six-year-old daughter, Pauline, walked in her sleep last night, Mrs. Cecil Drennen, 332 West Third street, almost bled to death from a wound about an inch deep in her right arm above the elbow. Mrs. Drennen fell through the glass in the front door and was severely cut. A peculiar chain of circumstances led to the accident.

Some time near midnight little Pauline arose while asleep and began walking about the house. The front door was left open and it happened that the screen was not hooked. Pauline walked out on the porch. Still asleep, she tried to get back in. She could not pull the screen open and her attempts at opening it caused a constant squeaking.

This awakened her parents. Suspecting he heard burglars, Mr. Drennen arose and investigated. He went to the front door but it was so dark he did not see his daughter. He closed the front door. When Mrs. Drennen heard the door slam, she had visions of a burglar in the house although she knew her husband was up searching for one.

In describing the incident, Mr. Drennen said that the mysterious attack on Mrs. Plummer in Jersey City a week ago Sunday morning had been the chief topic of conversation among the women in the neighborhood since it happened, and that Mrs. Drennen had that on her mind when she arose to see if her husband was grappling with the supposed burglar.

Mrs. Drennen started toward the front door. She stumbled over a pillow lying on the floor and crashed headlong through the glass in the front door.

"Papa, what are you doing?" screamed the little girl who was awakened by the noise of the falling glass and Mr. Drennen says his first thought was that their little girl had been hurt. That was the first time that they knew she was on the front porch.

The screen is the only thing that saved the girl from serious injury. Practically all of the glass was knocked out of the door frame, crashed against the screen and fell to the floor.

Blood spurted from the wound in Mrs. Drennen's arm. Attempts to stop the flow of blood were futile. Six physicians were called before one was found who could come. Dr. Will S. Coleman was finally located, but Mrs. Drennen lost a considerable amount of blood before he arrived. Her hands were scratched by the glass and she sustained several scratches on her face.

COLORED MAN TOOK HIS LIFE

Body of Guy Hughes, Age Thirty Years, Found Suspended from Rafter in Barn this Morning

WAS MELANCHOLY LATELY

Left No Note, But Told His Mother Last Night he Wanted Her to Have Money he Had Saved

Guy Hughes, 30 years old, a well known colored man, committed suicide by hanging from a rafter in the Reynolds and Clifford barn in West Tenth street some time last night or early this morning. His body was found suspended from the rafter by workmen employed at the Reynolds and Clifford factory shortly after seven o'clock this morning and indications were that he had been dead for many hours.

Hughes was a single man and lived with his aged mother, Mrs. Rosie Hughes, 720 West Ninth street. The barn is just across the alley and back of his home in Tenth street. Mrs. Hughes missed her son from home when she arose about four o'clock and when he did not return after two hours she became alarmed. The men at the factory also missed him when he did not show up for work and a search was instituted.

His body was found in the hay mow of the barn by Otis Clifford. Hughes used a rein from a set of harness. One end was tied to a rafter up next to the roof and near a pile of baled straw. His body was found suspended several feet from the floor. One hand clutched the strap above his head and death, according to the coroner, resulted from choking.

Hughes, according to his mother and the men with whom he worked, had been acting strangely for the last two weeks. He was of a cheerful disposition but here of late he appeared melancholy and it is believed he had planned this act for some time. Last evening before retiring for the night he took a bath and made some remarks to his mother concerning some money that he had saved. He told her that the money was for her and that he wanted her to have it all.

Because of his actions it would seem that the suicide had been

Success Tools

Writing of the benefits of newspaper advertising to the national advertisers, Richard A. Foley says:

"Newspaper advertising shortens the process of building success, and sweetens the task. In its co-relationship to business it is somewhat different from magazine advertising. It obtains quicker and more centralized results. It provides a method of intensive cultivation.

"It has a peculiarly awakening effect upon a community because while the men and women of say, Philadelphia, Chicago, or Milwaukee might know in a detached sort of way about national products, the importance of their own use of these products is much more strongly impressed upon them by the rather personal application of article advertised in newspapers, to their own lives and affairs."

OBSERVATIONS OF CROP CONDITIONS

Joseph Glass Says That in His Travels he has Found no County Better Than Rush

HE FORMERLY LIVED HERE

Joseph Glass, formerly of this county, who now lives in Hancock county and travels through the country for a tea company, writes the Republican that the corn crop is not going to come up to expectations. He says it will not be over a half crop and that the fruit crop is almost a failure. He declares that potatoes are a failure, but that wheat is up to the average and will range in yield from ten to forty bushels. The oats crop is good, he says, but the straw is short. Drouth has cut the hay crop short, as it has most all other vegetation.

Mr. Glass writes that Rush county is the banner county in Indiana. In all of his travels, he declares, he has not seen a county where crops are generally so good. Mr. Glass doubts whether times can be made any better in the next fifty years than they have been in the last half century. Most of the people have prospered, he says in closing, and that is all anyone could ask for.

HOW TARIFF BILL WORKS IN INDIANA

Between Two and Three Thousand Miners in Sullivan County are Idle Because of no Business

ABOUT 34 MINES ARE CLOSED

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Sullivan, Ind., July 28.—One of Sullivan county's great industries—mining—is practically at a standstill. Not more than a half dozen of the county's forty mines are working at all, and those that are being operated are running but half time and less. It is estimated that between two and three thousand miners are out of work. There is little prospect of an early resumption of activity in this industry.

The miners are attributing their enforced idleness to the Democratic administration. They read daily of manufacturing establishments closing down for lack of orders, because of the workings of the Democratic tariff bill and they know that each shut down means less coal to be mined. The only mines operating in this mine at this time are those having contracts with railroads.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together. And until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. State Administration

Here are some figures from the official state records that show very plainly that the taxpayers of Indiana are paying dearly for the present Democratic brand of state government. In 1908, during the

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 549 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

year of the last Republican state administration, the salaries and expenses of all the regular standing boards and commissions totalling $242,558.02. In 1913 under Democratic rule, the salaries and commissions of all regular standing boards and commissions totalling $428,521.60, an increase of $185,963.58, or 76.6 per cent.

Why should the taxpayers of Indiana pay $185,963.58 more in salaries and expenses for standing boards and commissions in one year under a Democratic administration than was paid during the same length of time under a Republican administration. This is another one of the big reasons why your taxes are so high.

Why should the legislative session of 1907 under a Republican administration cost but $130,000 while the session of 1913 under a Democratic administration cost the taxpayers $162,000? Both sessions were 60 days in length and there were the same number of members in both houses in the session of 1907 as there were in the session of 1913.

The truth of the matter is that most of the increase in the cost of the Democratic session went to door keepers and clerks who were not needed—employees whose hardest work was to draw their salaries. There were men on the payroll of the last state legislature at straight salary for the full session who did not average one day in Indianapolis each week during the session.

A vote for the Democratic state ticket this year will be interpreted by the Democratic politicians as an approval of this reckless expenditure of the taxpayers money.

In California

Of late we have been reading of the whirlwind campaign Governor Johnson of California, running mate of Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, has been making in the statewide primary in California as a candidate for renomination for governor at the hands of the Progressives. Dispatches have intimated that there would be nothing to the primary but Johnson. It was in California, you may remember, that swallowed, literally consumed, the Republican party in 1912, by stealing the organization and practically disfranchising all of the Republican voters of the state. But what does the result of the state-wide primary show? That the combined vote of the Progressives and Democrats was only 1,926 greater than the Republicans. The Republicans cast 388,895; the Democrats was only 206,146; the Progressives, 184,675. But it's the same old story everywhere.

A Southern Party

The Indianapolis Star and other Bull Moose papers have told us of the wonderful Progressive party sentiment in the south. We have noted by these misguided political organs that the Progressive party offers the only program for protectionists in the south. But the primary returns in Florida show the protections don't do as the Bull Moosers would have them. Florida has a compulsory registration clause in its primary law. Those who registered had to state their party choice. This year 13,014 Republicans registered, but there were only 556 Progressives according to the official returns. This is far different than 1912 when Roosevelt received 4,535 votes in Florida and Taft 4,279.

GUARDIAN ASKS
FOR A RECEIVER

Michael Kney Also Demands Partition of Farm Two-Thirds of Which Ebbing Children Own.

FATHER IN INSANE ASYLUM

Michael Kney, guardian of Lizzie and Anna Ebbing, has filed a partition suit against August Ebbing, Ollie J. Ebbing and the Manilla Bank, and also asks that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the Ebbing farm in Walker township. The suit follows closely the taking of August Ebbing to Madison insane asylum.

According to the guardian, the two children have a two-thirds interest in the farm and now that Ebbing has been taken to the asylum there is no one to manage the farm and he asks that a receiver be appointed to take charge. The Manilla bank holds a mortgage on the land and in the partition the bank is made one of the defendants. If a partition is ordered the land will be sold and the mortgage satisfied.

SEEMS TO FAVOR
SALEM, ILLINOIS

Town That Raised William J. Bryan Getting Paid, Politically, for its Trouble.

SIX CITIZENS GET GOOD JOBS

(By United Press.)

Salem, Ill., July 28.—This county seat town, whose chief claim to fame is that it raised William Jennings Bryan to college Freshman age, is just now getting back the bread it thus cast on the waters of celebrity. But the bread has turned to plums, savory and satisfying to the thirsty political appetite.

Though it is not easy to trace any direct connection between the elevation of the Salem boy to the front ranks of the nation's political leaders, and federal and state appointments which have come to Salem people, the fact is noted hereabout that six Salem citizens recently have annexed good jobs. Which is above the average proportion for towns of less than six thousand people.

PAPERS BOOST
CANAL PROJECT

Huntington Working Hard for Proposed Waterway to Pass Through That City

SEND OUT MARKED COPIES

Government is Working on Two Surveys and Congress Willing to Make Appropriation

(By United Press.)

Huntington, Ind., July 28.—The newspapers of this city came out with first page announcements recently to Boost a Chicago newspaper which competes with the local papers. The purpose back of it was to make a big boost for the Lake Erie-Lake Michigan canal.

The Fort Wayne Commercial club was not doing business fast enough to suit C. B. Williams, J. W. Caswell, and a number of others, so they started a little work of their own. They made two trips to Chicago, which is to be the western terminal of the canal, and they finally interested the Chicago paper in the waterway proposition. The paper promised to give the project attention, and one Sunday it came out with a big story. The papers here learned the article would be published and had the people all waiting for it. The article, by the way, was the first real boom the canal project has had in Chicago, but the Chamber of Commerce there has been interested, and the support of Chicago interests is expected and promised.

Marked copies of the Chicago paper were bought here by the hundreds and sent to business men and men of political influence. One went to Vice President Marshall. Another went to the vice president with the suggestion that he take it to President Wilson and explain to him the plan for the canal.

The government is spending thousands of dollars in northern Indiana on the surveys of the two routes and it is expected this work will be completed within a month or two. Then the selection of the better of the two routes will be up to the federal canal board, and after that will come the effort to get congress to make the appropriation necessary for the work.

STATE AID HELP IN ROAD BUILDING

Not Only Constructs More Highways
But Makes Better Those Which
Have Been Built.

BIG RETRUN ON INVESTMENT

First and Foremost is the Reduction in the Actual Cost of Hauling
Over Them

State aid is counted by the United States department of agriculture to be the greatest boon of road building. The plan has grown wonderfully popular in nine years when all but six states have added state highway departments. Under the old plan when counties and townships built roads as they pleased. The services of trained engineers were out of the question and there was no chance to test innovations in road building. But state aid has changed all this. The best engineering skill is available for all works of importance, there is co-operation and a constant stimulus to further improvements. The money contributed by the states does not only build more roads, it makes better those that other money builds.

At the present time there are in the United States 20,741 miles of roads improved either wholly or in part by state aid. This is nearly the mileage of the French routes nationales, the system of great national highways which is the envy of every civilized nation. The routes nationales are of course only a small part of the total mileage of France, where practically every road of any importance is an improved road, and France is a vastly smaller country, both in area and in population than the United States, so that this comparison is not, in itself, very flattering to our progressiveness. It shows, however, that we have at least made a beginning. Of the 2,226,842 miles of roads in the United States, 223,774 miles, or approximately 10 per cent, are classed as improved.

To improve the remaining 90 per cent may well seem a big job. It is, in fact, only made possible because the work really pays for itself. From material gathered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, it is now possible to prove not only that good roads are a profitable investment, but to determine exactly what dividends they pay. An investigator assigned to this problem in any given locality first ascertains the extent of the territory that is tributary to any main road, much as one might ascertain the territory tributary to some river. The next step is an accurate estimate of the total products of this territory; so much grain, so much tobacco, so much garden truck, etc., etc. Of this quantity a certain portion is consumed on the farm; the rest is shipped over the road in question, checked by investigators at the shipping point to which the road leads. In general it has been found that the two methods yield much the same information—the total amount of produce hauled over the road. Next, the length of the average haul is calculated, the size of the load permitted by the character of the road ascertained, and the cost of teams and drivers figured. With these facts before him, the investigator is now able to state positively the cost of hauling a ton of produce on that road, to express in terms of these "ton-miles" the freight traffic on the road, and finally the total cost to the community served by the road of hauling its goods to market. Armed with these data, it is easy to decide how much money can be profitably spent in improving the road, and what are the returns that the investment yields to the community.

These returns are of various kinds. First and foremost is the reduction in the actual cost of hauling, the plain fact that it takes less time and labor to haul a load over a good road than over a poor one.

Less obvious is the effect of improved roads in increasing the total output of a community. In the case of one county in Virginia where particularly thorough records have been kept, this output was more than doubled. The farmers found that with a market always and readily accessible to them, it paid to work the land to its maximum production.

This explains the very remarkable rise in farm land values which nearly always accompanies road improvement. The rise is not a fictitious one, of no benefit to the man who wishes to farm and not to sell. The land is more valuable because it can profitably be made to produce more. In other words, the money that goes into the road comes back with interest from the land.

planned. At the time Mrs. Hughes did not think anything of his actions or of his conversation. She did not hear him leave the house and it is problematical as to the time the suicide was committed. Dr. Barnett, county coroner, stated from the condition of the body he had evidently been dead for six hours or even longer.

Guy was the only support of his aged mother and she was almost prostrated this morning over her son's death. He had been employed for years at the Reynolds and Clifford factory and was one of their trusted employees. He was well liked by his fellow workmen. During the time that Hughes appeared downcast, the men who worked with him had in a playful way, told him he was losing his mind. Hughes never resented this and took the talk in a joking manner.

Hughes went to the barn in his sock feet and was dressed in his work clothes. In one pocket two freight bills and a small bottle of camphor, about half full, were found. The crowd that quickly gathered at first believed that he had left a note but when the papers were taken from his pocket by the coroner it proved to be the freight bills. He had shipped some lumber for the mill last evening before going home and had not taken the bills from his pockets.

Hughes was highly respected by all who knew him. He was a member of the colored Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellow lodges. Besides his mother he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Kate Hines, of this city and Mrs. Naomia Boone of Indianapolis and one brother, Fred Hughes of Louisville, Ky.

NOTICE!

After a very careful consideration we have decided to change our business on August 1st to a strictly cash system.

Our main reason for doing this is that we are anxious to furnish you goods as low or even lower than any house offering like qualities. This we fully realize is not possible under the credit system, as loss from bad accounts (which is considerable, even with the best of care) must be made good by those who pay.

There is no getting around this. Stop and think carefully if you prefer to go and pay for your accommodations and help pay for those bad accounts and the expense connected, (which are big items that must be provided for), or would you rather get the benefit of a strictly cash system, of which, as a rule, you are already able to take advantage.

PLAYGROUND MAY BE READY IN WEEK

Wading Pool is Being Built, Equipment is Expected Any Time and Supervisor is Employed.

VIRGIL BINFORD IS THE MAN

Work has been started to equip the public playground in the city park and it is probable that it will be open within a week, or possibly two weeks. Virgil Binford of Carthage, who will teach manual training in the schools here next year, has been employed as supervisor. The equipment has been purchased and shipped. It is expected to arrive at any time and will be installed at once.

Work is progressing fast in the wading pool and it will be completed in a few days. It will be circular, with a diameter of thirty feet. It will slope gradually toward the center, where it will be eighteen inches deep. The floor will all be cement and there will be a walk three feet wide all around the pool so children will not get their feet muddy when they step out. Around the edge also will be a ledge so that the children can sit there and dangle their feet in the water. The drain is from the center, with an outlet outside, so there will be no danger of it stopping up or freezing. Water can be changed as often as thought necessary.

GAME SET FOR TOMORROW

NATIVE OF RUSH COUNTY IS DEAD

Joseph Sullivan, Age Eighty-Five Years, Expires at Home of His Daughter in Kokomo.

Survived by Four Sons and Five Daughters, One of Whom is Mrs. John McCoy of Arlington.

Joseph Sullivan, a native of this county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dennis Fitzgerald, in Kokomo yesterday from diseases not uncommon in old age. With his passing, the Kokomo Tribune says, Kokomo lost one of her oldest and most estimable old men. Mrs. John McCoy of near Arlington is a surviving daughter.

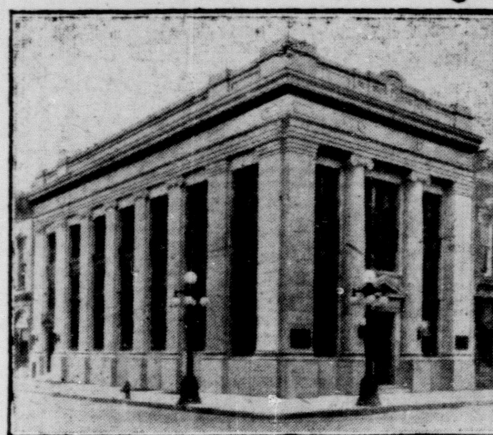

The deceased was over eighty-five years of age at the time of his death. For the last twenty-five years he had lived in Kokomo, the last two years being spent with his daughter. The Sullivan family moved to Kokomo from a farm which they formerly owned near Rushville.

Having lived in Kokomo for so many years and being a jovial, congenial companion, he had made a large number of friends among the residents of the city all of whom are sad that he has passed away.

Owing to his old age he had been failing of late. It was not known that he was seriously ill but it was known by his intimate friends that he was growing feeble. His death came unexpected to many while the closer relatives have been expecting him to die at any time.

Four sons and five daughters survive. His wife died ten years ago. The sons are: John L. of Cincinnati, Leo P. of Meadville, Penn., Thomas A. of California, and Will of Tampa, Florida, and Joe of Traverse City, Michigan. The daughters are Mrs. Maggie Comerford of Bunker Hill, Mrs. Pat Milet of Peru, Mrs. John McCoy of Rush county, Mrs. Austin McGill of Kokomo, and Mrs. Dennis Fitzgerald with whom he lived.

The Psi Iota Xi will be entertained tonight by Miss Leah Flint, instead of tomorrow night, the usual meeting night.

RUSSIAN TROOPS ON MOVE

First Act of Czar Will be Followed by Mobilization Order from Berlin—Many Rumors

(By United Press.)

Berlin, Germany, July 28.—Austria today formally declared war on Serbia.

Troops are being massed on the border. Reservists are pouring into Austria from Germany and all preparations are being made for an immediate invasion of the little kingdom. Austrian warships and transports are moving up and down the Danube and official reports of the occupation of Belgrade is expected hourly.

The formal declaration followed the rejection of the proposal of Sir Edward Gray, British foreign minister, for mediation. Both Austria and Germany refused to consider mediation on issues between Austria and Serbia.

The two governments addressed notes to Gray in which they left open the way for further negotiations looking towards localizing the war. Austria refused to submit her demands on Serbia to the ambassadorial conference.

Russia has stated unofficially that an invasion of Serbia will not be contemplated and the chief efforts of the powers will not be to gain positive assurance of the Czar that the Russian government will keep hands off. Troops are on the move, however, and the first act of Russia will be followed by a general mobilization order from Berlin.

The Austrian government has taken over all the telephone and telegraph lines and word of war was received here by a simple sentence message.

Unconfirmed rumors are that Russian troops are now concentrating on the border but the Czar has informed Germany that general mobilization orders have not been issued. Fourteen Russian army troops are said to have been mobilized. Reports that the Czar left for Finland were unconfirmed today.

FINE SUMMER RESORT DAY

Today was one of the kind of days the summer resort folders tell about. There was a fine breeze and the temperature bobbed around below ninety degrees all day. The mercury did get up to ninety once, but came down again and hovered around eighty-six. Rain fell last night at intervals, but the fall was not heavy enough to do any good. The weather man makes some deviation from the set prediction today when he says it will be slightly cooler tonight.

2 CHARGED WITH "BOOTLEGGING"

Willard Bennett and Charles Sweet are Arraigned Before Mayor
Behout and Plead not Guilty

TRIAL IS WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Henry Graham Says They Sold Him
a Quart of Whiskey for a Dollar
Sunday and They Drank it

Willard Bennett and Charles Sweet were arraigned before Mayor Behout last night on charges of "bootlegging" and both entered pleas of not guilty. Bennett will have a hearing Wednesday evening at seven-thirty o'clock and Sweet will be tried Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

Bennett and Sweet are alleged to have sold a quart of whiskey to Henry Graham. At least Graham told Chief Rosenkrantz that he gave the two men a dollar and they gave him the quart. The transaction took place Sunday.

The three men drank the booze in a local barber shop and during the spree a mirror was broken. Bennett and Sweet tried to make Graham pay for the glass and when he refused an argument took place, and when the men left, Graham was "sore" at the other two.

This is the story told the police by Graham. He was very mad at the other two men for making him responsible for the glass, in fact he was so mad that he came to the police and filed the affidavit charging "bootlegging."

Sweet and Bennett tell a different story and say they bought the "booze" of Graham. With two different stories the cases against the men promise to be quite interesting. Graham came here several weeks ago with a carnival company that was stranded and has since been working in a local foundry.

FARMER HIT BY I. & C. CAR TODAY

Willis Collins of Arlington Has Narrow Escape from Death When he Drives in Front of Dispatch

AT STOP EAST OF ARLINGTON

Right Leg is Broken and he Suffers from Shock—His Son, Henry
Collins, Jumps in Time

Willis Collins, an Arlington farmer, narrowly escaped death shortly before ten o'clock this morning when the eastbound Indianapolis & Cincinnati dispatch struck the wagon in which he rode, killed both horses and severely injured him. The accident happened at stop 23, the first stop east of Arlington.

Henry Collins, age seventeen years, his son, was riding on the wagon, but he jumped in time to escape injury. For some unknown reason he ran up the road, persons on the car said, and did not stop when persons called to him. It was feared that he had been hurt.

Mr. Collins' left leg was broken above the knee and he suffered a severe shock, but this is thought to be the extent of his injuries. He was conscious when he was brought here on the dispatch, which struck him, about eleven o'clock. He complained of his back, but Dr. E. I. Wooden, to whose office he was taken, did not think he was internally injured.

Harry Bradon motorman on the car, said that he blew the whistle repeatedly when he saw the hay wagon approaching, but that the driver did not appear to hear it. When the motorman saw that a collision was inevitable, Henry Collins, the boy, grabbed his father's arm and pointed in the direction of the car. Then he jumped. The warning had evidently come too late for the elder man to leap.

The wagon was damaged and the horses were killed instantly. Persons on the car say that they do not see how Mr. Collins escaped death. Many saw him drive directly in the path of the car.

Passengers on the car when it arrived here say that Motorman Bradon gave the best exhibition of nerve they ever saw. He stuck to his post even though he had ample time to rush back into the car when he saw that nothing could stop the car from striking the wagon. It was pointed out that he faced death when he stayed at the wheel because there was danger of the car being derailed or of flying pieces striking him. As it was, he was cut slightly on the face by flying glass.

Mr. Collins was removed to his home in Arlington this afternoon. Irvin Meal was the conductor on the car.

FALLS THROUGH THE DOOR GLASS

Mrs. Cecil Drennen, 332 West Third
Street, Almost Bleeds to Death
From Wound in Arm.

UP IN SEARCH OF BURGLARS

"Prowler" Proves to be Six-Year-Old Daughter Pauline, Who is Walking in Her Sleep.

Because her little six-year-old daughter, Pauline, walked in her sleep last night, Mrs. Cecil Drennen, 332 West Third street, almost bled to death from a wound about an inch deep in her right arm above the elbow. Mrs. Drennen fell through the glass in the front door and was severely cut. A peculiar chain of circumstances led to the accident.

Some time near midnight little Pauline arose while asleep and began walking about the house. The front door was left open and it happened that the screen was not hooked. Pauline walked out on the porch. Still asleep, she tried to get back in. She could not pull the screen open and her attempts at opening it caused a constant squeaking.

This awakened her parents. Suspecting he heard burglars, Mr. Drennen arose and investigated. He went to the front door but it was so dark he did not see his daughter. He closed the front door. When Mrs. Drennen heard the door slam, she had visions of a burglar in the house although she knew her husband was up searching for one.

In describing the incident, Mr. Drennen said that the mysterious attack on Mrs. Plummer in Jersey City a week ago Sunday morning had been the chief topic of conversation among the women in the neighborhood since it happened, and that Mrs. Drennen had that on her mind when she arose to see if her husband was grappling with the supposed burglar.

Mrs. Drennen started toward the front door. She stumbled over a pillow lying on the floor and crashed headlong through the glass in the front door.

"Papa, what are you doing?" screamed the little girl who was awakened by the noise of the falling glass and Mr. Drennen says his first thought was that their little girl had been hurt. That was the first time that they knew she was on the front porch.

The screen is the only thing that saved the girl from serious injury. Practically all of the glass was knocked out of the door frame, crashed against the screen and fell to the floor.

Blood spurted from the wound in Mrs. Drennen's arm. Attempts to stop the flow of blood were futile. Six physicians were called before one was found who could come. Dr. Will S. Coleman was finally located, but Mrs. Drennen lost a considerable amount of blood before he arrived. Her hands were scratched by the glass and she sustained several scratches on her face.

ALL DAY PICNIC

Every one is cordially invited to attend and bring a basket if possible.

COLORED MAN TOOK HIS LIFE

Body of Guy Hughes, Age Thirty Years, Found Suspended from
Rafter in Barn this Morning

Left No Note, But Told His Mother
Last Night he Wanted Her to Have Money he Had Saved

Guy Hughes, 30 years old, a well known colored man, committed suicide by hanging from a rafter in the Reynolds and Clifford barn in West Tenth street some time last night or early this morning. His body was found suspended from the rafter by workmen employed at the Reynolds and Clifford factory shortly after seven o'clock this morning and indications were that he had been dead for many hours.

Hughes was a single man and lived with his aged mother, Mrs. Rosie Hughes, 720 West Ninth street. The barn is just across the alley and back of his home in Tenth street. Mrs. Hughes missed her son from home when she arose about four o'clock and when he did not return after two hours she became alarmed. The men at the factory also missed him when he did not show up for work and a search was instituted.

His body was found in the hay mow of the barn by Otis Clifford. Hughes used a rein from a set of harness. One end was tied to a rafter up next to the roof and near a pile of baled straw. His body was found suspended several feet from the floor. One hand clutched the strap above his head and death, according to the coroner, resulted from choking.

Hughes, according to his mother and the men with whom he worked, had been acting strangely for the last two weeks. He was of a cheerful disposition but here of late he appeared melancholy and it is believed he had planned this act for some time. Last evening before retiring for the night he took a bath and made some remarks to his mother concerning some money that he had saved. He told her that the money was for her and that he wanted her to have it all.

Because of his actions it would seem that the suicide had been

Success Tools

Writing of the benefits of newspaper advertising to the national advertisers, Richard A. Foley says:

"Newspaper advertising shortens the process of building success, and sweetens the task. In its co-relationship to business it is somewhat different from magazine advertising. It obtains quicker and more centralized results. It provides a method of intensive cultivation.

"It has a peculiarly awakening effect upon a community because while the men and women of say, Philadelphia, Chicago, or Milwaukee might know in a detached sort of way about national products, the importance of their own use of these products is much more strongly impressed upon them by the rather personal application of article advertised in newspapers, to their own lives and affairs."

OBSERVATIONS OF CROP CONDITIONS

Joseph Glass Says That in His Travels he has Found no County Better Than Rush

HE FORMERLY LIVED HERE

Joseph Glass, formerly of this county, who now lives in Hancock county and travels through the country for a tea company, writes the Republican that the corn crop is not going to come up to expectations. He says it will not be over a half crop and that the fruit crop is almost a failure. He declares that potatoes are a failure, but that wheat is up to the average and will range in yield from ten to forty bushels. The oats crop is good, he says, but the straw is short. Drought has cut the hay crop short, as it has most all other vegetation.

Mr. Glass writes that Rush county is the banner county in Indiana. In all of his travels, he declares, he has not seen a county where crops are generally so good. Mr. Glass doubts whether times can be made any better in the next fifty years than they have been in the last half century. Most of the people have prospered, he says in closing, and that is all anyone could ask for.

HOW TARIFF BILL WORKS IN INDIANA

Between Two and Three Thousand Miners in Sullivan County are Idle Because of no Business

ABOUT 34 MINES ARE CLOSED

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Sullivan, Ind., July 28.—One of Sullivan county's great industries—mining—is practically at a standstill. Not more than a half dozen of the county's forty mines are working at all, and those that are being operated are running but half time and less. It is estimated that between two and three thousand miners are out of work. There is little prospect of an early resumption of activity in this industry.

The miners are attributing their enforced idleness to the Democratic administration. They read daily of manufacturing establishments closing down for lack of orders, because of the workings of the Democratic tariff bill and they know that each shut down means less coal to be mined. The only mines operating in this mine at this time are those having contracts with railroads.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders. Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists. State Administration

Here are some figures from the official state records that show very plainly that the taxpayers of Indiana are paying dearly for the present Democratic brand of state government. In 1908, during the

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During
Change of Life by Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me, and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 349 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

year of the last Republican state administration, the salaries and expenses of all the regular standing boards and commissions totallied $242,558.02. In 1913 under Democratic rule, the salaries and commissions of all regular standing boards and commissions totallied $428,521.60, an increase of $185,963.58, or 76.6 per cent.

Why should the taxpayers of Indiana pay $185,963.58 more in salaries and expenses for standing boards and commissions in one year under a Democratic administration than was paid during the same length of time under a Republican administration. This is another one of the big reasons why your taxes are so high.

Why should the legislative session of 1907 under a Republican administration cost but $130,000 while the session of 1913 under a Democratic administration cost the taxpayers $162,000? Both sessions were 60 days in length and there were the same number of members in both houses in the session of 1907 as there were in the session of 1913.

The truth of the matter is that most of the increase in the cost of the Democratic session went to door keepers and clerks who were not needed—employees whose hardest work was to draw their salaries. There were men on the payroll of the last state legislature at straight salary for the full session who did not average one day in Indianapolis each week during the session.

A vote for the Democratic state ticket this year will be interpreted by the Democratic politicians as an approval of this reckless expenditure of the taxpayers' money.

In California

Of late we have been reading of the whirlwind campaign Governor Johnson of California, running mate of Theodore Roosevelt in 1912, has been making in the statewide primary in California as a candidate for renomination for governor at the hands of the Progressives. Dispatches have intimated that there would be nothing to the primary but Johnson. It was in California, you may remember, that swallowed, literally consumed, the Republican party in 1912, by stealing the organization and practically disfranchising all of the Republican voters of the state. But what does the result of the state-wide primary show? That the combined vote of the Progressives and Democrats was only 1,926 greater than the Republicans. The Republicans cast 388,895; the Democrats was only 206,146; the Progressives, 184,675. But it's the same old story everywhere.

A Southern Party

The Indianapolis Star and other Bull Moose papers have told us of the wonderful Progressive party sentiment in the south. We have noted by these misguided political organs that the Progressive party offers the only program for protectionists in the south. But the primary returns in Florida show the protectionists don't do as the Bull Moosers would have them. Florida has a compulsory registration clause in its primary law. Those who registered had to state their party choice. This year 13,014 Republicans registered, but there were only 556 Progressives according to the official returns. This is far different than 1912 when Roosevelt received 4,535 votes in Florida and Taft 4,279.

GUARDIAN ASKS FOR A RECEIVER

Michael Kney Also Demands Partition of Farm Two-Thirds of Which Ebbing Children Own.

FATHER IN INSANE ASYLUM

Michael Kney, guardian of Lizzie and Anna Ebbing, has filed a partition suit against August Ebbing, Ollie J. Ebbing and the Manila Bank, and also asks that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the Ebbing farm in Walker township. The suit follows closely the taking of August Ebbing to Madison insane asylum.

According to the guardian, the two children have a two-thirds interest in the farm and now that Ebbing has been taken to the asylum there is no one to manage the farm and he asks that a receiver be appointed to take charge. The Manila bank holds a mortgage on the land and in the partition the bank is made one of the defendants. If a partition is ordered the land will be sold and the mortgage satisfied.

Town That Raised William J. Bryan Getting Paid, Politically, for its Trouble.

SIX CITIZENS GET GOOD JOBS

(By United Press.)

Salem, Ill., July 28.—This county seat town, whose chief claim to fame is that it raised William Jennings Bryan to college Freshman age, is just now getting back the bread it thus cast on the waters of celebrity. But the bread has turned to plums, savory and satisfying to the thirsty political appetite.

Though it is not easy to trace any direct connection between the elevation of the Salem boy to the front ranks of the nation's political leaders, and federal and state appointments which have come to Salem people, the fact is noted hereabout that six Salem citizens recently have annexed good jobs. Which is above the average proportion for towns of less than six thousand people.

PAPERS BOOST CANAL PROJECT

Huntington Working Hard for Proposed Waterway to Pass Through That City

SEND OUT MARKED COPIES

Government is Working on Two Surveys and Congress Willing to Make Appropriation

(By United Press.)

Huntington, Ind., July 28.—The newspapers of this city came out with first page announcements recently to boost a Chicago newspaper which competes with the local papers. The purpose back of it was to make a big boost for the Lake Erie-Lake Michigan canal.

The Fort Wayne Commercial club was not doing business fast enough to suit C. B. Williams, J. W. Caswell, and a number of others, so they started a little work of their own. They made two trips to Chicago, which is to be the western terminal of the canal, and they finally interested the Chicago paper in the waterway proposition. The paper promised to give the project attention, and one Sunday it came out with a big story. The paper here learned the article would be published and had the people all waiting for it. The article, by the way, was the first real boom the canal project has had in Chicago, but the Chamber of Commerce there has been interested, and the support of Chicago interests is expected and promised.

Marked copies of the Chicago paper were bought here by the hundreds and sent to business men and men of political influence. One went to Vice President Marshall. Another went to the vice president with the suggestion that he take it to President Wilson and explain to him the plan for the canal.

The government is spending thousands of dollars in northern Indiana on the surveys of the two routes and it is expected this work will be completed within a month or two. Then the selection of the better of the two routes will be up to the federal canal board, and after that will come the effort to get congress to make the appropriation necessary for the work.

STATE AID HELP IN ROAD BUILDING

Not Only Constructs More Highways
But Makes Better Those Which
Have Been Built.

BIG RETURN ON INVESTMENT

First and Foremost is the Reduction
in the Actual Cost of Hauling
Over Them

State aid is counted by the United States department of agriculture to be the greatest boon of road building. The plan has grown wonderfully popular in nine years when all but six states have added state highway departments. Under the old plan when counties and townships built roads as they pleased. The services of trained engineers were out of the question and there was no chance to test innovations in road building. But state aid has changed all this. The best engineering skill is available for all works of importance, there is co-operation and a constant stimulus to further improvements. The money contributed by the states does not only build more roads, it makes better those that other money builds.

At the present time there are in the United States 20,741 miles of roads improved either wholly or in part by state aid. This is nearly the mileage of the French routes nationales, the system of great national highways which is the envy of every civilized nation. The routes nationales are of course only a small part of the total mileage of France, where practically every road of any importance is an improved road, and France is a vastly smaller country, both in area and in population than the United States, so that this comparison is not, in itself, very flattering to our progressiveness. It shows, however, that we have at least made a beginning. Of the 2,226,842 miles of roads in the United States, 223,774 miles, or approximately 10 per cent, are classed as improved.

To improve the remaining 90 per cent may well seem a big job. It is, in fact, only made possible because the work really pays for itself. From material gathered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, it is now possible to prove not only that good roads are a profitable investment, but to determine exactly what dividends they pay. An investigator assigned to this problem in any given locality first ascertains the extent of the territory that is tributary to any main road, much as one might ascertain the territory tributary to some river. The next step is an accurate estimate of the total products of this territory; so much grain, so much tobacco, so much garden truck, etc., etc. Of this quantity a certain portion is consumed on the farm; the rest is shipped over the road in question, checked by investigators at the shipping point to which the road leads. In general it has been found that the two methods yield much the same information—the total amount of produce hauled over the road. Next, the length of the average haul is calculated, the size of the load permitted by the character of the road ascertained, and the cost of teams and drivers figured. With these facts before him, the investigator is now able to state positively the cost of hauling a ton of produce on that road, to express in terms of these "ton-miles" the freight traffic on the road, and finally the total cost to the community served by the road of hauling its goods to market. Armed with these data, it is easy to decide how much money can be profitably spent in improving the road, and what are the returns that the investment yields to the community.

These returns are of various kinds. First and foremost is the reduction in the actual cost of hauling, the plain fact that it takes less time and labor to haul a load over a good road than over a poor one.

Less obvious is the effect of improved roads in increasing the total output of a community. In the case of one county in Virginia where particularly thorough records have been kept, this output was more than doubled. The farmers found that with a market always and readily accessible to them, it paid to work the land to its maximum production. This explains the very remarkable rise in farm land values which nearly always accompanies road improvement. The rise is not a fictitious one, of no benefit to the man who wishes to farm and not to sell. The land is more valuable because it can profitably be made to produce more. In other words, the money that goes into the road comes back with interest from the land.

planned. At the time Mrs. Hughes did not think anything of his actions or of his conversation. She did not hear him leave the house and it is problematical as to the time the suicide was committed. Dr. Barnett, county coroner, stated from the condition of the body he had evidently been dead for six hours or even longer.

Guy was the only support of his aged mother and she was almost prostrated this morning over her son's death. He had been employed for years at the Reynolds and Clifford factory and was one of their trusted employees. He was well liked by his fellow workmen. During the time that Hughes appeared downcast, the men who worked with him had in a playful way, told him he was losing his mind. Hughes never resented this and took the talk in a joking manner.

Hughes went to the barn in his sock feet and was dressed in his work clothes. In one pocket two freight bills and a small bottle of camphor, about half full, were found. The crowd that quickly gathered at first believed that he had left a note but when the papers were taken from his pocket by the coroner it proved to be the freight bills. He had shipped some lumber for the mill last evening before going home and had not taken the bills from his pockets.

Hughes was highly respected by all who knew him. He was a member of the colored Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellow lodges. Besides his mother he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Kate Hines, of this city and Mrs. Naomi Boone of Indianapolis and one brother, Fred Hughes of Louisville, Ky.

NOTICE!

After a very careful consideration we have decided to change our business on August 1st to a strictly cash system.

Our main reason for doing this is that we are anxious to furnish you goods as low or even lower than any house offering like qualities. This we fully realize is not possible under the credit system, as loss from bad accounts (which is considerable, even with the best of care) must be made good by those who pay.

There is no getting around this. Stop and think carefully if you prefer to go and pay for your accommodations and help pay for those bad accounts and the expense connected, (which are big items that must be provided for), or would you rather get the benefit of a strictly cash system, of which, as a rule, you are already able to take advantage.

DEPRESSED BY WAR NEWS

London Stock Market Feels Effect of Unfavorable Condition

London, England, July 28.—Depressed by the unfavorable character of political news, stocks sank to the lowest level of the present crisis before the closing of the market today. Forced liquidation for both local and continental accounts also affected the market.

PLAYGROUND MAY BE READY IN WEEK

Wading Pool is Being Built, Equipment is Expected Any Time and Supervisor is Employed.

VIRGIL BINFORD IS THE MAN

Work has been started to equip the public playground in the city park and it is probable that it will be open within a week, or possibly two weeks. Virgil Binford of Carthage, who will teach manual training in the schools here next year, has been employed as supervisor. The equipment has been purchased and shipped. It is expected to arrive at any time and will be installed at once.

Work is progressing fast in the wading pool and it will be completed in a few days. It will be circular, with a diameter of thirty feet. It will slope gradually toward the center, where it will be eighteen inches deep. The floor will all be cement and there will be a walk three feet wide all around the pool so children will not get their feet muddy when they step out. Around the edge also will be a ledge so that the children can sit there and dangle their feet in the water. The drain is from the center, with an outlet outside, so there will be no danger of it stopping up or freezing. Water can be changed as often as thought necessary.

GAME SET FOR TOMORROW

Little Flatrock and Main Street Christians Will Play at 3.

Teams from the Main Street Christian Sunday school and the Little Flatrock schools of the Sunday school league will play ball at the South Main street grounds tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. With four teams in the league now, a hot race is expected. Newton Halterman, the star pitcher of the league last year when he played with Big Flatrock, will do the box work for the Main Street Christians tomorrow, he having started in that Sunday school.

NATIVE OF RUSH COUNTY IS DEAD

Joseph Sullivan, Age Eighty-Five Years, Expires at Home of His Daughter in Kokomo.

Survived by Four Sons and Five Daughters, One of Whom is Mrs. John McCoy of Arlington.

Joseph Sullivan, a native of this county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dennis Fitzgerald, in Kokomo yesterday from diseases not uncommon in old age. With his passing, the Kokomo Tribune says, Kokomo lost one of her oldest and most estimable old men. Mrs. John McCoy of near Arlington is a surviving daughter.

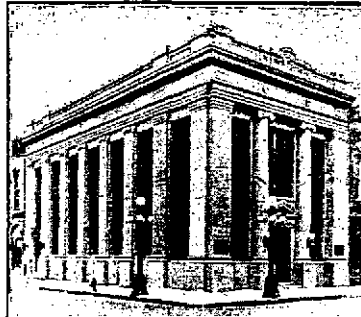

The deceased was over eighty-five years of age at the time of his death. For the last twenty-five years he had lived in Kokomo, the last two years being spent with his daughter. The Sullivan family moved to Kokomo from a farm which they formerly owned near Rushville.

Having lived in Kokomo for so many years and being a jovial, congenial companion, he had made a large number of friends among the residents of the city all of whom are sad that he has passed away.

Owing to his old age he had been failing of late. It was not known that he was seriously ill but it was known by his intimate friends that he was growing feeble. His death came unexpected to many while the closer relatives have been expecting him to die at any time.

Four sons and five daughters survive. His wife died ten years ago. The sons are: John L. of Cincinnati, Leo P. of Meadville, Penn., Thomas A. of California, and Will of Tampa, Florida, and Joe of Traverse City, Michigan. The daughters are, Mrs. Maggie Comerford of Bunker Hill, Mrs. Pat Milet of Peru, Mrs. John McCoy of Rush county, Mrs. Austin McGill of Kokomo, and Mrs. Dennis Fitzgerald with whom he lived.

The Psi Iota Xi will be entertained tonight by Miss Leah Flint, instead of tomorrow night, the usual meeting night.
